

PRIMARY HERE CHEERS HOOVER

Tremendous Vote May Help Fight in Indiana

Californians in Hoosier State to Aid Secretary

Washington and Oregon Will Fall in Line

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
Times Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON May 2. (Exclusive)—Hoover leaders are cheered over his great vote in the California primaries Tuesday, and believe it will have a tremendous effect in Indiana where they have the primary battle next Tuesday to wrest the Republican control of the Hoosier State from the organization headed by Senator Jim Watson. If they can get the voters out for Hoover to make the losses there have been preliminary polls there is no doubt that Hoover will carry the State. Inasmuch as there are candidates up for every office there will be a full vote.

While Hoover leaders are desperately working to hold their members in line, the other candidates in the States are going into the State every day to get out the whole Hoover vote. Among those now in Indiana in the interests of Secretary Hoover are Representative Evans of Los Angeles, who is a native of Kentucky, and the world's leading coal controller, Southern Indiana: Representative Arthur Free of San Jose, who made some effective speeches for Hoover in Ohio, and Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant Attorney-General of the United States.

SEK WOMEN'S VOTE

These are the three principal Californians now engaged in Indiana, but Republicans from other cities also are there and Mrs. Florence Kahn of California, who represents one of the largest Hoover districts, also is expected to do much good in her visit to Indiana to get out the woman's vote of that State for Mr. Hoover. With these and other national stars on his side and the combined efforts of most of the union labor leaders of the State making an effective fight to get out the Hoover vote it is believed that some of the Watson leaders will be surprised at the turnout in Indiana next Tuesday.

Hoover leaders also are looking forward next Saturday to adding the whole Washington delegation of seventeen delegates. Oregon is assured to Hoover on the 18th instant, and there are definite tendencies to add the delegation from Virginia which will insure him in obtaining the delegation from that State.

Gov. Lowden did not enter the Presidential primary race there and Hoover forces will have an easy time of taking every delegate from Illinois, Gov., who was at one time closely associated with the office of U. S. Atty.-Gen. Daugherty.

THILSON'S NAME UP
The very fact that Hoover is gaining State after State and putting him far in the lead this far in advance of the opening of the Kansas City convention and the expectation that Gov. Smith of New York will lose the Old Guard in the next election improves vastly the prospects of Hoover for nomination on the first

SMITH'S FRIENDS JUBILANT; FOES DEFETEAT

WASHINGTON, May 2. (AP)—Jubilation over Gov. Smith's victory in the California primaries has supporters today confidently predicted that he will be nominated for President early in the balloting at Houston.

On the other hand, many of Smith's political foes, while they are jubilant over his success, have benefited greatly by hisfeat in capturing California's twenty-six delegates from Reed of Missouri and Walsh of Montana, still hold to the contention that he cannot muster the 73½ convention votes needed for nomination.

CLAIM 494 DELEGATES

Smith's managers assert he has bagged 494 delegates, with his opponents disputing the validity of these.

The total claimed for New York Governor is 229½ short of the two-thirds needed for the nomination, but 263 more than he had on the first ballot at the convention four years ago, and is 126 in excess of his high vote in that memorable political battle.

In view of his sweep in California and reared as a boy in Tennessee and will help to carry the border States of Kentucky, Tennessee and North Carolina for Hoover in the election next November.

OPPOSITION AT WORK

Working to head off the New York Governor's selection is a group of Democratic leaders who are countering on a block of favorite son delegates to make up the remaining one-third needed to nominate him.

They say that the opposition is even more emphatic by wiring Henry H. Morde, the Smith challenger.

"Permit me to congratulate you upon your splendid victory in gaining the Democratic nomination for Smith in California," said Reed.

He wired Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy under the late President Wilson, asking if he would consent to run as Vice-President on a third-party ticket headed by Reed or Senator Burton at Hou-

OIL DRAINAGE
Color Put in Teapot Divers in Salt Creek Field

—Evidence that the Teapot Dome lease case is in the hands of the Salt Creek fields in the use of analine dye tests in the investigation by John Macmillan, State Geologist.

Large amounts of oil were found in Federal lands which the property was transferred to the Navy. Watt declared the men had lost $60,000 in drainage of wells into the salt field.

CONNECTION DENIED

Watt characterized as "ridiculous" the no-drainage talk of government geologists.

At previous trials of the Standard and Alberto B. Fall, it was shown that there was no connection between the Teapot Dome and the Salt Creek field.

On the contrary the Secretary of the Interior gave one reason for leasing the dome because of the danger in the Salt Creek field drawn off from Teapot Dome.

LARGE LOSS SIGHTED

The oil will be sold at a loss before the financial system can be put back into shape.

For instance, he cited the case of the thirteen months ago at that time, and asserted that revenue received warrants them, buy new equipment, lay new tracks, and inaugurate bus lines, has been over-rated.

DEATH BETRAYS SECRET BRIDE

Campus Romance at University of California Revealed When Student Mourns Co-ed, Victim of Operation, as His Wife

BERKELEY, May 2. (Exclusive) A University of California campus romance which resulted in the student's death a year ago and was to have been kept inviolate until Walter M. Powell, the bridegroom, had been graduated from school, was revealed today, following the death of Hazel Dell Dashiel in the university hospital. The girl, who was chosen out by the heartbroken husband, for the girl known as Miss Dashiel had been his wife. She succumbed following an operation for appendicitis.

Powell, a senior in the college of physical education, will be graduated this month.

The facts of the hidden romance were verified by Dale Dashiel, brother of the dead wife, who said he had been taken into the couple's confidence at the time of the marriage and had kept its secret.

Mr. Powell would have received a master's degree from the college of nursing this month. She was president of the Alpha Delta, honorary nursing sorority, and had been a favorite in the Church of England.

NATIONAL DRY LAW

"In frankness" the bishops concluded, "it should be said that as long as the approach to the council hall is by this way, the realization of organic union is remote, indeed."

Discussing prohibition the bishops reported "we are in an hour as anxious to see some kind of law as we are to see the Eighteenth Amendment come." The Eighteenth Amendment has been written into our Constitution and there it will doubtless remain.

"We have learned by experience, however, that where customs of long standing are affected by law, constitutional or statutory, especially where there is involved a question of personal restraint, commercial gain or personal restraint, the written law is not automatically effective."

Easy divorce and speedy remarriage which "has upon the community the demoralizing effect of authorized marital exchange" was depicted as also was the recent flood of divorces, and the introduction of more convenient methods of divorce, involving such prenuptial agreements as appear to anticipate the dissolution of the relationships that seems to be the thought in the so-called companionate and trial marriage.

Furthermore, little hope was expressed that a Protestant union is seen because "the acceptance of papal primacy and subscription to Roman Catholic dogma, a stipulation the bishops made plain is beyond consideration."

Protestant union is seen because "we find ourselves face to face with the overtures of the Anglican church.

DOOR TO UNION CLOSED

Taking up the proposed union of Catholic and Protestant churches the bishops reported the door is closed because "the recent encyclical of the Roman Pontiff repeats and elaborates the contention that the union of Christendom demands, as an unconditional requirement, the acceptance of papal primacy and subscription to Roman Catholic dogma, a stipulation the bishops made plain is beyond consideration."

Furthermore, little hope was expressed that a Protestant union is seen because "we find ourselves face to face with the overtures of the Anglican church.

PLAYS AND BOOKS

Concern was expressed for the "morals of the community as affected by the perverted and pernicious character of so many of the theaters and of so much of current literature, whether belonging to the class of the tabloid daily or the magazines in which under the name of art, shameless vice insults every sense of decency."

Thinking up war and peace the bishops said "In Frankland that for war no remedy had been found, because no substitute had been agreed upon. We register our conviction that a World Court and a League of Nations in some approved form have a real place in any practical program of world peace."

Touching on fundamentalism the bishops asserted, "We steadfastly maintain our unshaken loyalty to the great basic doctrines but we would not be silent as to the widely-discussed conflict of science and invention. We believe that every man should be allowed to follow to the greater glory of God. If we are afraid to go into the laboratory with the scientist or into the geological field with true and reverent investigators, then we are doubtless God."

A bid was made to inject the modern fundamentalist controversy into the conference, however, was headed off at the outset of today's session when the 855 delegates voted almost ten to one against consideration of the issue.

The vote came on a resolution introduced by Rev. Harold Paul Sloan of Hackensack, N. J., chairman of the New Jersey delegation. It asked that the conference consider "widespread dissidence throughout many divisions of the church to the doctrines of deity, virgin birth, original sin, and the second coming."

CHURCHMEN FIGHT SMITH AND NEED RACES

KANSAS CITY, May 2. (AP)—After emphasizing prohibition as the major issue in the Presidential campaign, the committee on temperance, prohibition and public morals at the Methodist Episcopal Conference here has demanded a "bold dry plank" in the platform of all presidential parties.

In a session preliminary to drafting their report for submission to the conference, officers of the temperance board served notice that dry candidates will be demanded and that their organization will be in the thick of the fight to obtain such nominees.

Utter Defeat Turns Force

Nationalists Advance to be

Peking Dictator in Flight
Before Foes

BY HALLET ABEND

(Copyright, 1928, by New York Times)
DAIREN (Manchuria) May 2.—

Uncontrolled here by the Chinese censorship I am able to cable the fact of the overwhelming defeat of the rabble called the Shantung army.

Foreign military observers back from the Tsinanfu region describe the debacle as unequalled even in China in recent years. If the Nationalists are now in possession of Tsinanfu the only reason is their physical inability to get their arms that far so soon. (Other dispatches yesterday announced the capture of Tsinanfu.)

No resistance was planned or possible for Gen. Sun Chuan Fang, the northern commander-in-chief in the field, has lost in killed and captured more than half of his entire personal forces of less than, 20,000 men.

ARMY DWINDLES

The army of Gen. Chang Tsung Chang, which a year ago numbered more than 1,000,000 men, has dwindled to 50,000, due to graft, to pay and desertions, and it lacks discipline entirely. In most cases this rabble failed to await contact with the Nationalists.

Learning of Sun's defeat, Marshal Chang Tso Lin, the northern dictator, with headquarters at Peking, decided to abandon both Chang Tsung Chang and Shantung, as abilities and with the aid of Sun and his troops to attempt to attempt to hold the Tschouki line.

STRICKEN COUNTRY

Western Shantung is an exploring wasteland. The whole area, already famine-stricken, now being trampled over by the retreating northern and advancing southern armies. Everything is being consumed as if by swarm of giant locusts. The new crops are being ruined by this visitation.

The fighting is swelling the en-orm tide of emigration from Shan-

Maverick Italians Abroad Ordered Corralled and

(Copyright, 1928, by Chicago Tribune)
ROME, May 2. (Exclusive)—Organization of 10,000,000 Italians living abroad into Fascist groups in order to save them for the mother country and dissuade them from becoming naturalized citizens of another country will be given renewed stimulus through organized Italian consular service.

Under the plan announced in Rome today the Fascist consular service will be doubled. It will consist of 300 principal—generals, eighty-eight consulates, ninety-two vice-consulates, first class, and fifty Honorary consulates, second class, besides a network of smaller agencies. These new agencies will be distributed throughout the world, but the larger addition will be made in the United States, the Mediterranean

area, France and South America.

These new agencies will be distributed throughout the world, but the larger addition will be made in

the United States, the Mediterranean
area, France and South America.

DOUBLE PURPOSE

According to the announcement these new consular agents will have the twofold purpose of protecting commercial relations and also organizing Italians abroad into Fascist groups to save them for Italy.

Under a statute drawn up last year by Premier Mussolini persons of the Fascist group to be protected there. Italy must have a consul wherever there has enemies and enemies of Italy are numerous in various parts of the world where Fascism is badly understood or not understood at all.

WORK UNDER WAY

The new consular organization has been approved by royal decree and forty new offices have been established. The ring around the Mediterranean has been strengthened and in Buenos Aires, where many Italians live, the present consulate has been raised to a consulate-general.

In the United States new offices have been opened at Atlanta, Ga., Houston, Tex., Providence, R. I., and

Baltimore. The San Francisco office has been raised to a consulate-general.

CITY SHIFTS TO HIGH GEAR

Long Beach Voters Approve $6,000,000 Program

Auditorium and Additions at Harbor Go Ahead

Interest in Bonds Brings Out 75 Per Cent Vote

LONG BEACH, May 2.—Definitely committed to an improvement program that involves the expenditure of nearly $6,000,000, Long Beach was jubilant today over the result of yesterday's special election, which will give the city a new auditorium, a new pleasure pier and improvements to the outer harbor that will complete the harbor program begun in 1924.

Harbor and auditorium bond proponents won a decided victory when the voters rolled up a 10-to-1 margin for both bond propositions. Final check of the election returns today showed that the $2,800,000 auditorium and pier bond proposal was carried by a vote of 35,319 in favor of it and 3,700 against. The harbor improvement bond, however, amounting to $3,200,000, polled a vote of 31,669 for and 4,651 against the proposal. With the total number of votes cast approaching the 40,000 mark, it was revealed that fully 75 per cent of the Beach turned out to cast their ballots on the two municipal issues.

START WORK SOON

Work on both proposed city officials announced today, would begin as soon as the legal steps connected with disposing of the bonds have been completed and bids for the work accepted.

What engineers declare to be one of the most pretentious auditorium and pleasure-pier projects ever undertaken by a municipality in the United States is embodied in the plans for the $2,800,000 project. Plans for the project are practically completed and have been passed upon by several engineers of national reputation. The pier is to consist of a pier in the form of a horseshoe, the west arm of which will begin at a point on the shore where the present wooden Pine-avenue pier is located. The pier will extend seaward and eastward in a graceful curve, retouching the beach at Linden avenue, six blocks east of Pine.

FILL IN OCEAN

In the center of the beach line between the two land arms of the pier, twenty-four acres of tidelands will be filled and reclaimed and on this spot the big auditorium will be constructed. The auditorium grounds will be landscaped and space will be provided for a band stand. The pier, protecting the site from seaward, will provide a still-water lagoon of several hundred acres. The top of the pier will provide a promenade more than four miles long.

The $3,200,000 bonds under existing plans, provide a twenty-four-acre fill on the ocean shore east of the present harbor entrance, in addition to docks and terminals and municipal warehouses abutting along the present Long Beach breakwater, recently built by the city without government aid.

With the completion of these additions, Long Beach's harbor-improvement program, begun four years ago, and for which $8,000,000 was authorized through a former bond issue, will be realized.

Teachers Open Fight Against Clock Punching

PASADENA, May 2.—School-teachers in this city believe that punching a time clock is beneath the dignity of an educator, and will demand that this method of accounting for their "minutes and seconds" be discontinued, according to a rumor current today.

The objections to the time-clock system, which has been in use here for several years, are said to be based on the contention that teachers are not unskilled laborers and should not have to work with machine-like rhythm.

The psychological effect of the time clock is bad due to the fact that it lowers the educators' morale, as those who seek to have "teachers as well as students placed on their honor."

Annual Pageant Opens Valencia Fete at Orange

ORANGE, May 2.—With the perfume from thousands of acres of orange trees in full bloom filling the air, a queen was crowned here tonight to reign over the festivities marking the beginning of the Valencia orange-packing season which annually results in a harvest of many millions of dollars for Orange county growers.

The pageant was symbolic of the Valencia fairyland and was climaxed by the coronation of Lenora Peters as the reigning monarch of the heart of Valencia.

Several hundred school children attended the result of weeks of practice in their symbolical dances, comedy stunts and allegorical representations. The largest crowd in the history of Queen Valencia's court programs was ushered in the place of honor at the unfolding of the pageant. The pageant will be repeated Thursday night.

Young Guest of Pomona

LONG BEACH, May 2.—Klaid over the heavy vote for Herbert Hoover in the Presidential primaries yesterday, Gov. Young, accompanied by Mrs. Young and his secretary, Keith Carlin, and wife, arrived here this morning and was the guest of the city for the day.

Met at the Hotel Edge by a large group of citizens, the Governor was received at the Community Building where a banquet had been prepared in his honor. The State executive delivered the feature address in a discussion of reorganization of the State government.

Following the banquet, Gov. Young and his party were conducted to the home of the Kellogg Arabian horse ranch and the Pacific colony at Spadra, four miles west of this city.

The Governor was scheduled to deliver an address at the meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Gabriel Valley tonight at Baldwin Park.

GOVERNOE TO SPEAK IN GLENDALE FRIDAY

GLENDALE, May 2.—Preparations are completed for the speech to Gov. Young, who is scheduled to deliver three addresses here Friday when he comes to take part in the ceremonies that will mark the installation of the cornerstone in the American Green Cross Monument that he had erected at the Broadway High School. In the evening Gov. Young will make his first address at the Broadway High School, speaking before the student body. At noon he will address the assembled service clubs of the city, speaking as the guest of the Kiwanis Club in the Tuesday Afternoon Clubhouse theater; and his final speech will be made at the Glendale Union High School.

SCHOOL MERGER PLAN STUDIED

GLENDALE, May 2.—Proposals that the Glendale city school district be enlarged by the merger of the school districts of La Crescenta and Montrose are under consideration by the Chamber of Commerce officials. The proposed extension to make the boundaries of the city school district coterminous with those of the Glendale Union High School district, and thus save the way for the consolidation of the city schools affords by one board.

The present dual system, covering the elementary and the high schools, creates two independent boards, but the extension of the city school district would permit the merger of the two bodies and would make administration and efficiency in operation.

It is claimed sentiment in the Montrose and Crescenta regions will be ascertained before any definite steps are taken to bring about the union of the different districts.

After addressing the national Academy on April 23, Dr. Millikan, director of the laboratory at the University of California at Los Angeles, will be a member of the board of visitors. He is said to be planning further studies of the cosmic rays this summer.

Hope to End Long Squabble About Management

Walnut and Citrus Groups Proposed as Models

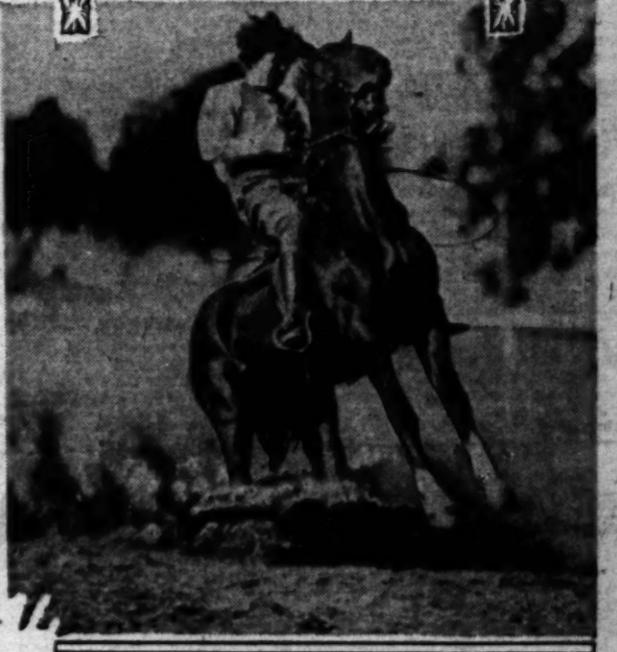

VENTURA, May 2.—A vigorous appeal to Ventura county apricot growers was made today by Sydney L. Graham for concerted action in reorganizing the State Association. For several years the members of this district have been fighting the form of control and management exercised by the apricot-prune organization. A clause which prevented members from withdrawing was inserted in the apricot-prune constitution from time to time in an effort to set aside this provision, but were unsuccessful.

An entirely new type of organization is now proposed, modeled after the walnut and citrus associations similar to those of this country. Under this plan Graham said, an individual member may withdraw at will, as may also an entire local packing-house group.

VILLAGE HONORS PIONEERS OF AIRHamlet Erects Monument to Wrights*Shaft Marks Point of First Motor Flight*Twenty-fifth Anniversary Given Tribute*KITTYHAWK, N. C. May 2. (P)—While the nation's capital feted the Bremen's gallant crew, villagers of this isolated reef paid homage today to Orville and Wilbur Wright, whose first short flight in a heavier-than-air machine, twenty-five years ago, started the world.

Near the beach dunes a modest monument has been placed. It is inscribed: "On this spot, September 17, 1900, Wilbur Wright began the assembly of the Wright brothers' first experimental glider which led to man's conquest of the air. Erected by Citizens of Kittyhawk, N. C., 1928."

PRIMITIVE TYPE

Many persons intimately associated with the "crude" broach during their efforts to make the first human box kites fly were assembled to watch the unveiling of the marble, as were prominent men from North Carolina.

In contrast with the huge ocean-conquering planes, of which the Bremen's representative type, the Wright machine was a frail affair, propelled by a four-cylinder motor.

The pilot reclined in a network of cross-stays, at the mercy of the wind and structural mishaps. Its greatest flight after four trials was 500 feet.

The Wrights spent nearly three years here in their experiments, part of the time living in a tent.

Most of the inhabitants recall vivid memories of the day, December 17, 1903, when Orville Wright made the first successful flight in a power-driven plane.

GUARD TRUMPETS

News of the triumph was borne to the village by a life guard who had assisted in the experiment. Virtually out of breath from running, this man came in yelling, "They've done it, they've done it! Danged if they ain't flew."

The scene of the initial flight was Kill Devil Hill, three miles from where the brothers found favorable winds and an eminence from which to project the machine.

(Ex-clusive)—Results of a straw vote by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to ascertain sentiment in regard to daylight saving was announced yesterday at a meeting of California physicians. They suggested the use of winter time as a compromise in most cases but pointed to the fact that loss of hair due to thyroid and endocrine trouble must have medical or surgical treatment.*In addition the Burlingame Chamber of Commerce voted that it would be in favor of daylight saving and desirous of having whatever policy San Francisco adopts in the matter.*The Association of Western Textile Representatives of San Francisco, composed of representatives of established textile houses, voted that at recent meeting it voted to endorse the suggestion.*RULING ALLOWS BANKS TO DEAL IN INSURANCE*SAN FRANCISCO, May 2. Pierce, San Francisco, in connection with the reconstruction of human ears destroyed in accidents or missing at birth. With living subjects and moving pictures, Dr. Pierce demonstrated that ear transplants, skin transplantation and mechanical manipulation will duplicate missing ears.*The prevention of baldness was discussed by Dr. Harry S. He suggested the use of nitro violet, red and orange in most cases but pointed to the fact that loss of hair due to thyroid and endocrine trouble must have medical or surgical treatment.*In the discussion of plastic surgery today physicians agreed that while it is not yet perfectly understood, the use of the new drugs developed by a limited group of specialists and that much more study on the subject is imperative.*Mariposa Grove Highway Opens*YOSEMITE, May 2. May 2. (P)—Jimmy Angel's flight to Cape Horn and return to Fresno, Cal., again came to grief today, it is learned from an announcement that Presho Stephenson, vice-president of Beacon Airways, and W. C. Benton, relief pilot, were returning to Fresno tonight by train, on account of illness. Because of their abandonment of the flight, Beacon Airways withdrew its financial support of the proposed 20,000-mile air jaunt around the edge of South America.*Angel, Willard Scott, photoplay star, will remain with the plane and continue the flight if possible.*This announcement was made here today by Berl, who said further that negotiations with the Standard Oil California de Mexico are being conducted for the oil company's backing in a continuance of the flight.*Berl said that a terrific storm had raged since Sunday and that the plane was "ok," though its safety from damage was in doubt for forty-eight hours.*The flight thus far has been noted for mishaps rather than smooth sailing. Angel accompanied by Thompson and Benton left Fresno on April 17 expecting to make the first hop to Guaymas the following day. Berl awaited the plane in Guaymas. Owing to illness and mishaps of one sort or another the party did not arrive there for a week and since then Angel had been sick in the hospital here. FRAME-UP FOR WIFE CHARGEDHenry Divorce Case Brings

Into Indiscretions ToldPlaintiff Accused of Plot to Dishonor Spouse*

Statements made by Attorney J. R. Files to the effect that Albert Preston Henry attempted and failed to trap his pretty young wife in indiscretions at a "framed" wild party started a heated debate between counsel on both sides late yesterday in the hearing of the wealthy manufacturer's divorce case now before Judge Dudley S. Valentine. The debate was still under way when court adjourned until 10 a.m. today.

In the cross-examination of Mr. Henry, begun yesterday, Attorney Files declared that before the case ends it will be proved that his husband, seeking to give proof of unfaithfulness on the part of his wife, ordered his hired agents to "frame" a party and to attempt to get a man "she would fall for," that the attempt was made but failed because Mrs. Henry left in disgrace.

Much time yesterday was taken in the direct examination of the husband by Attorney William A. Barnhill as to his assets and his annual income.

The husband testified his net monthly income does not amount to more than $418.80. He further showed that since he has been paying his wife temporary alimony in the sum of $460 a month, with expenses accruing from living apart, he has a monthly deficit of $350.

Attorneys Frank and Clyde E. Murphy for Mrs. Henry in their cross-examination of the manufacturer are endeavoring to show the wife was hounded from June, 1927, to January, 1928, by an army of investigators in the employ of Henry, who, they say, organized one of the most thorough systems of espionage to obtain evidence ever attempted in a divorce case here.

Bite of Dancer

It was a big bite, even though made by a little dog, Miss Peggy Starr, specialty dancer, contended yesterday before Municipal Judge McWay in her suit for $1000 damages against Frank B. Fisher, 1343 North Douglas street.

Miss Starr testified she was walking past the defendant's home on November 12, last, when the dog, which had been following her, bit her on the leg. As a result she lost a theatrical contract because she could not walk for six weeks, she said.

Attorney L. D. Brett, representing Miss Starr, offered testimony to show that the dog is a vicious animal because it has bitten other people.

Judge McWay took the matter under advisement.

Counterfeit Ring

Important information regarding the operations of a so-called counterfeiting ring, said to have been passing fake Federal Reserve notes on the Pacific Coast, will be given at the trial in San Francisco of Paul Schuman, Filbert-street manufacturer, it was intimated yesterday by Federal officials.

Deputy United States Marshal Finn left last night for San Francisco with Thomas Jones, arrested in Los Angeles in connection with the asserted plot. Jones is being taken north as a material witness against Schuman, it was stated.

"L" ROADERS OPPOSED

Opposition to the building of any elevated railways in Los Angeles was expressed to the City Council yesterday in a letter by Joseph E. Dorn, head of the committee of subways, he said, if they are paid for from bond issues or from general funds but is opposed to any plan to pay for subways by assessment districts.

The "under-cover" operator is paid from a fund placed by the Supervisors at the disposal of the District Attorney's office. From his appointment April 8, 1927, to June 30 of this year he has received approximately $2000. The amount drawn since that time was not disclosed. The appropriation to the fund for the current year is $2500.

Arden entered a minute ahead of his bride, while the Russian choir commenced a ceremonial chant, softly growing in volume as the bride made her entrance in a white satin gown and long silver embroidered tulle cloak forming a train.

The bridal couple met before the altar and the high priest gave each a hand professedly to assure the people stood on chairs and clung to the windows trying to get a glimpse. The bridal couple were presented bread and water by the high priest, who continued his chanting for twenty minutes.

The Count Mercati, the bride's brother, and Maria, the bride's mother, joined Arlen's brother, accepted gilt crowns lined with blue satin and held them over the heads of the pair, the choir starting a sad dirge in minor chord. The business of holding the crowns proved tiring and the British Consul and another guest were pressed into service for the task.

REPORT SHOWS RAPID GROWTHTotal Building and Loan Units in California 222*Increase of Forty-six During Last Year Reported*Three Important Combinations Recently Completed

Reflecting the development and popularity of the building and loan movement in California, a report recently issued from the office of the building and loan commissioner at San Francisco shows that the number of associations in the State totals 222, whereas at the beginning of 1927 there were only 176. This increase of forty-six institutions does not take into consideration mergers and consolidations that have taken place during the year.

Among the more important consolidations which took place in the acquisition of the People's Guaranty Building and Loan Association of Ontario by the State Guaranty Corporation. The People's association had resources of more than $2,450,000 and had been established since 1891. It was merged with the Pacific States Savings and Loan Company.

Consolidation of the Vermont Building and Loan Association with the International Building and Loan Association took place at the beginning of the year. Both were Los Angeles institutions and were merged under the name of International Building and Loan Association. The Prudential Building and Loan Association acquired by purchase recently the assets of the West Coast Building and Loan Association in Los Angeles.

The Atlas Holding Corporation of Los Angeles added its fifth unit to its Statewide chain of building loan associations by purchasing late in November a controlling interest in the San Pedro Building and Loan Association. Control of the capital stock of the California Building and Loan Association was acquired last month by the Los Angeles Investment Company, preparatory to a merging of this company with the Investment Building and Loan Association. Completion of the merger was announced Monday last.

TRUTH ABOUT BABY'S FIRST SWEET SMILE

Young mothers, proud of their first-born, will often declare how baby smiled when he was only 1 week of age; how he crooked at a fort-night.

As a matter of fact, during those first two weeks, no baby smiles. His face contracts in the semblance of a smile. The cause, however, is a trouble some one. Such smiles are quickly followed by loud cries.

So, too, with those tiny chortling noises sometimes heard from the 14-day-old infant. They are caused by life and not pleasure.

The baby's brain is like a tiny developing organ. But it must be likened to a big book, as yet untouched by the pens of the writer. Life's experience—stabs of brain writing, and on the blank mental tablet, sensations and sensations are recorded for all time.

During his first six weeks, the baby's mind is slowly finding things out. First, he learns that one particular thing may result from another particular thing. Thus, if he cries and finds, again and again, that this results in "petting," feeding, or an adjustment of clothing making him more comfortable, he will soon cry when he wants any of these.

Up to 6 weeks the average baby is a complete little egoist. He is the center of the universe, and his wants are paramount. The outside world exists for him only. In so far as it does, it does so to his needs.

When does a baby start to notice objects about him? After 6 weeks generally. When he starts to follow the light, or any bright object moved near him, then he is beginning to notice the world.

The next step is the identification of specific objects with specific sensations. Thus, the sight of his bottle will suggest the delights of milk. His will indicate the mouth and make impatient sounds.

From 12 to 16 weeks babies very often show signs of fear of strangers, and during this period the emotion of anger becomes more marked.

At the end of 16 weeks the baby sees the rapid development of the baby's sense of fun. He will indicate his pleasure when played with by little cries and wide smiles.

Love, as it is understood by adults, does not come to the baby as easily as sentimental folk would like to believe. He is a little bundle of primitive appetites. These satisfied, he signifies content; unsatisfied, he protest.

People speak of a "naughty" baby. There is no such thing. The so-called "naughty" baby is merely a baby in discomfort or pain. His first sensations on entering the world has been pain—the sharp sting of the lunge. That first step brought his first cry. Thereafter, he raises his voice in protest against pain. It is an instinctive act, purely physical.

HOME OWNERSHIP MAIN END

Inculcation of Thrift and Tenancy Elimination Held Building and Loan Objectives

BY SENATOR HERBERT C. JAMES
OF San Jose

Building and loan associations have for their purpose a twofold object: The enabling of the citizen to acquire his own home on the one hand, and the inculcating of thrift on the other hand. The census of 1920, shows that there were 24,000,000 homes in this nation. Of that number 13,000,000 were occupied by renters and only 11,000,000 occupied by home owners. In other words, more than 54 per cent of the homes of this nation were occupied by tenants. The purpose of the building and loan movement is to emancipate the citizen from tenancy to enable him to acquire his own home.

In this same 54 per cent of the associations are devoted to making loans on homes.

Since the war over 70 per cent of homes in the nation have been built by building and loan associations, and last year nearly $2,000,000,000 was loaned for that purpose.

TWO-FOLD AIM

The loaning on homes does a two-fold good to society: (1) It creates wealth. As I have outlined to you, it causes many to purchase homes in the different channels of industry, to the material man and the workman, to the merchant and the banks. (2) The building of homes is an investment in character. Statistics have shown that in the city of Chicago out of the 3500 dwellings there were 1,000,000, only 500 of which were among people that owned their own homes.

The man who provides a home for his first-born, will often declare how baby smiled when he was only 1 week of age; how he crooked at a fort-night.

As a matter of fact, during those first two weeks, no baby smiles. His face contracts in the semblance of a smile. The cause, however, is a trouble some one. Such smiles are quickly followed by loud cries.

So, too, with those tiny chortling noises sometimes heard from the 14-day-old infant. They are caused by life and not pleasure.

The baby's brain is like a tiny developing organ. But it must be likened to a big book, as yet untouched by the pens of the writer.

Life's experience—stabs of brain writing, and on the blank mental tablet, sensations and sensations are recorded for all time.

During his first six weeks, the baby's mind is slowly finding things out. First, he learns that one particular thing may result from another particular thing. Thus, if he cries and finds, again and again, that this results in "petting," feeding, or an adjustment of clothing making him more comfortable, he will soon cry when he wants any of these.

Up to 6 weeks the average baby is a complete little egoist. He is the center of the universe, and his wants are paramount. The outside world exists for him only. In so far as it does, it does so to his needs.

When does a baby start to notice objects about him? After 6 weeks generally. When he starts to follow the light, or any bright object moved near him, then he is beginning to notice the world.

The next step is the identification of specific objects with specific sensations. Thus, the sight of his bottle will suggest the delights of milk. His will indicate the mouth and make impatient sounds.

From 12 to 16 weeks babies very often show signs of fear of strangers, and during this period the emotion of anger becomes more marked.

At the end of 16 weeks the baby sees the rapid development of the baby's sense of fun. He will indicate his pleasure when played with by little cries and wide smiles.

Love, as it is understood by adults, does not come to the baby as easily as sentimental folk would like to believe. He is a little bundle of primitive appetites. These satisfied, he signifies content; unsatisfied, he protest.

People speak of a "naughty" baby. There is no such thing. The so-called "naughty" baby is merely a baby in discomfort or pain. His first sensations on entering the world has been pain—the sharp sting of the lunge. That first step brought his first cry. Thereafter, he raises his voice in protest against pain. It is an instinctive act, purely physical.

The California Building and Loan Commission Act gave the commissioners complete supervision over associations operating in the State. The department makes a yearly examination of associations and makes obligatory the rendering of a statement of condition, without notice, on "call" of the commissioner. This is done in the same manner as banks render call statements. It further stipulates that no capital or surplus may have priority over building and loan association investments.

At the time of the establishment of the commission, assets of the 126 associations were approximately $19,000,000. Among the associations now in existence and which were operating at that time, are the Southern California, State of California, Fidelity and the Home of Los Angeles. The Citizens' Pacific States, California Home and Fidelity operated in San Francisco. In San Jose, there was the California Mutual, San Jose and the Nucleus. Others were the Cosmopolitan and the Alameda County of Oakland; San Joaquin Valley, as Stockton; Loan and Building Association of Santa Barbara and the San Diego Building and Loan Association in San Diego.

OPERATIONS CHANGE

Since those early days of pioneering work in building-loan institutions, many changes have taken place, not only in growth of assets and number of associations which now total 222, but in methods of operation.

Although there is constant change in the methods adopted and toles adopted by most of the associations, the basic principles remain the same.

There are only two varieties, the crook handle and the straight military handle with slight variations in wood and finish. The crook-handle kind is the more popular.

After Boston's smallpox epidemic of 1878, there was a population of 15,000, only 174 persons were left in the city who had not had the disease.

SENATOR COPELAND GIVES VIEW OF HOUSING NEEDS

INDIVIDUAL OF SMALL CAPITAL HELD UNDER HANDICAP

SOLUTION DECLARED TO LIE IN BUILDING AND LOAN

BY ROYAL E. COPELAND
United States Senator from New York

Study and experience lead me to the conclusion that the financial aspect of the housing problem is the most serious side of it. The greatest need of the present situation everywhere is the maintenance of adequate credit facilities for the small home seeker of good character. This is essential in order that he may be able to finance the erection of his dwelling house, for the purchase of a house already erected on terms within his reach.

There is something radically deficient in our financial and economic system when a decent American citizen of sound health and steady income cannot buy the capital to finance his reasonable needs as a home seeker. This is particularly true of one who owns a vacant building site or has accumulated a fair margin of security and is not looking for charity.

In, concentration of attention upon this side of the housing problem the building and loan associations must be our chief reliance.

The lack of housing facilities would soon disappear if when you counsel some worthy man to own his own home you can also point him to the financial agencies where he can get the money to build the house. If he can show a reasonable margin of security he should be able to get a liberal mortgage money advance to establish his ownership. But this loan is of no use to him unless it is given upon terms affording the opportunity to liquidate the indebtedness in monthly installments, over a period of years, about as he now pays his rent.

Of all the varieties of financial institutions in this country, only the building and loan associations are organized to do this sort of financing.

TWO LAND BANK UNITS COMBINE

Institutions of Los Angeles and Bay City Unite

Organization to be Largest of Type on Coast

Total Resources Placed at Over $23,000,000

Announcement of the consolidation of the Pacific Coast Joint Stock Land Bank of Los Angeles and the Pacific Coast Joint Stock Land Bank of San Francisco with headquarters in San Francisco, was made yesterday by officials of the Los Angeles institution.

The banks, which are practically identical in stock ownership, natural and principal territory served, were chartered and organized in 1922 under the Federal Farm Loan and Building Fund Act for the purpose of serving farm and ranch owners in the Pacific Southwest with long time low interest rate loans. During six years of operations they have built up combined resources to excess of $25,000,000, with combined capital of surplus reserves and undivided profits of over $1,700,000.

The consolidated bank will be the largest joint stock bank on the Pacific Coast according to the announcement and one of the largest of its type in the United States. Under the terms of the consolidation agreement the San Francisco bank will assume all the assets and assume all liabilities of the Los Angeles bank.

PROFITS OF RIO GRANDE OIL HIGHER

Net for Quarter Shows 20 Per Cent Increase on 1927 Period

Further reflecting the improvement in the oil industry, the net earnings of the Rio Grande Oil Company for the first three months of the current year were in excess of those for the entire first half of last year, L. E. Lockhart, president of the company, reported yesterday. Net earnings for the quarter after all charges, amounting to $126,945, all equivalent to $1.20 per share on the outstanding stock, compared with $97,284.72, or 88 cents per share for the corresponding period last year.

The net for the quarter represents a gain of $19,578.13, or 20 per cent. Comparisons show that the net for the quarter rose an increase of $33,749 over earnings reported for the entire first half of last year, which aggregated $114,672.

For the first quarter amounted to $147,203.12 for the first quarter of last year. Operations after production, refining and marketing expenses, taxes, insurance, interest, amortization and discount after depreciation and depletion aggregated $291,128. A new figure do not include any additional gains from the deep-seated production in Signal Hill, as the first wells in that zone were completed around April 1, declared Mr. Lockhart.

The prospects for the balance of the year, stated the president, are that the earnings will be materially increased as the development of the Signal Hill properties progresses.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, May 2. (Exclusive) A heavy profit-taking movement on the Liverpool cotton market after its important rise of the last few days caused such a sharp setback to prices there that it was reflected in a sympathetic reaction in our market. The decline, however, was very moderate when contrasted with the big advance in prices of the past month.

In today's decline prices went off between 2¢ and 30 cents for the contract line here from yesterday's quotations, to the Liverpool setback, causing a good deal of profit taking by local and Wall Street traders and also some falling off from the recent bullish activity. The little below 21¢ cents, July around 21 1/2 cents, October of the new crop 21 1/2 cents, December to about 21 cents and January to 20 30 cents.

Liverpool cotton futures broke 22 English points on general profit taking there, but closed steadier at a net decline of about 12 on the day.

SIX MILLION DAY IN STOCKS

Los Angeles Exchange, in Unprecedented Trading, Sets New Peak; Bank Shares Supply Motive Power

Mainly because a good many people believe that one or two bank mergers are in the making, the Los Angeles Stock Exchange scored its first $30,000,000 day in yesterday's trading. The achievement of this milestone was sighted in the early hours of the morning session when speculation in the bank shares broke loose at an unprecedented rate, the floor traders scrambling franticly to execute the orders that came flooding in over the telephone lines entering the exchange.

When the day was over many brokerage-house representatives on the floor left the exchange with market orders unexecuted. The machinery of the exchange was inadequate to handle the volume of business, and only under the new system of trading, soon to be inaugurated, will the market keep abreast of the mounting tide of business. From all the indications, the trend is still upward.

For the last several weeks the value of the trading has been running at more than $4,000,000. Yesterday the value passed the $30,000 mark without question, and established the record figure of $36,725. This amount is 20 per cent over the previous record of $28,890,833, made on Monday of this week.

On Tuesday the record the Los Angeles Stock Exchange was broken in the last three days. On Saturday the record for a half-day was hung up again, the value touched $28,843,184, an increase of $418,352 over the previous Saturday.

To Merchants' National goes the major portion of the credit for yesterday's performance. Although there have been nothing but denials from the interested principals, the public seems convinced that something may develop, and this belief was expressed by the exchanges having a value of $14,000,000 in trading 621 shares turned over between the buyers and the sellers.

From the opening, Merchants' National took the center of the field. The first sale was made at a price 35 points above the final price on Monday. At the high of the day 170 the stock was up 40 points over the previous close, and at the final price of 160 the net advance for the day was 39 points.

Figuring in the trading were 4,000 shares valued at $26,172. Still without rumors concerning any degree of probability, Los Angeles First National contributed its entire $1,000,000 to the day's total. The stock squared its previous high of 145, and finished at 144, a net gain of 8 points. Transactions numbered 789 shares and the value was $11,214,400.

Bancitco Corporation, while falling off 5 1/4 points from the previous high, added $851,376 to the total value of transactions on a volume of 3,837 shares. The stock was high at 218, low at 214 and closed at 214 1/4. From Bank of America, recently added to the listed division, there was a respectable volume. The value of the 621 shares changing hands was $203,106. A new high price was hit at 209.

Richfield, still active on uncomplicated reports of negotiations with Pan American Western, figured in trading valued at $304,612.

Many Aided by Building-Loan

Stock and bond issues scheduled for distribution today include bonds of the Houston Gulf Gas Company, Council Bluffs Gas Company, preferred stock of the Illinois Power and Light Corporation, and of the Illinois Water Service Company.

A syndicate composed of Blane Co., Inc.; G. E. Barrett & Co.; and C. E. Estabrook & Co. is offering $100,000 convertible 6 1/4 per cent sinking fund gold debentures, with stock purchase privileges, of the Houston Gulf Gas Company. The debentures are due April 1, 1940, and are priced at 96 and interest to yield approximately 6.60 per cent.

A new issue of $1,300,000 Council Bluffs Gas Company first mortgaged gold bonds due May 1, 1948, will be offered by P. W. Chapman & Co. Inc. at 96 and interest to yield about 5.10 per cent.

Blyth, Witter & Co., Field, Olney & Co., and the Citizens' National Bank of Minnesota are offering $1,000,000 convertible 6 1/4 per cent sinking fund gold bonds due May 1, 1948, at 96 and interest to yield about 5.10 per cent.

EARNINGS DECLINE

New Refunding and Capital Readjustment Operations Expected to Run High

BY WILLIAM RUSSELL WHITE

Under the new legislation, financing involving capital readjustments and refunding operations, is likely to reach an unprecedented volume within the next several months as a result of the broadening of New York State's list of securities for legal investment.

Investment bankers are busily engaged with their legal and technical staffs in considering widespread readjustments.

The industrial market was particularly active and speculative issues like Hydro-Electric and International Holdings, both and artificial silk were strong, especially British Celanese and Courtaulds.

The Growing Scarcity of High Grade 7% Bonds

THE HUGE SURPLUS of investment funds in the United States today, together with the continued redemption of high-rate coupon securities, has resulted in an ever-increasing scarcity of sound bonds, yielding 7%, such as

MUSCOY DEVELOPMENT COMPANY First Mortgage 7% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds, due 1938

Price 100 and Interest, to yield 7%

These bonds are secured by a 40% first mortgage on 1900 acres of advantageously situated property adjoining the City of San Bernardino, directly in the path of the City's growth. Over 1000 acres are already improved with roads, as well as gas, water and electric facilities and 600 acres more are now in process of like improvement. It is estimated that interest on sales contracts alone will be in excess of interest requirements on these bonds.

A TABULATION of ranches which have been careful check on expense returns shows an increase during the year March, 1928, of 17,000.

Each ranch averaged a loss of $900 annually. The average per farm was $10,000. The average current cost (including feed cost) was lower per acre than in 1927, leaving a net revenue of $1,000 per acre for the 24,000 plants in May.

Keep in mind that the last annual laying stock—Fowlers, White Leghorns—are still able to buyers of Fowlers, which are the main concern and one of the most popular breeds in the country. The effect of the new law is to increase the value more than ever.

TRIO FACE JURY IN FINANCE CASERounsewell, Simmons and Moore Go on Trial*Charged With Larceny in Juggling of Funds*State Holds Bogus Mortgage Scheme Employed

Fred L. Rounsewell, president of the Western Mutual Finance Company, Inc.; Thomas W. Simmons, a former director of the company, and James T. Moore of 117 North Hamilton street, Beverly Hills, yesterday went on trial in Superior Judge Hardy's court on a charge of grand theft arising out of the same manipulation of company funds.

At the opening of the case similar charges against P. M. Davis, E. J. Davis and C. R. Powis were dismissed upon the motion of Ben J. Scheinman and James P. Costello, county district attorneys, on grounds that they are to be used as prosecution witnesses and for lack of evidence.

STATE EMPLOYEE TESTIFIES
Following the selection of the jury Ann F. Harshbarger, a deputy State corporation commissioner, was called to the stand as the first witness.

THOUSANDS SEE ART WORKS

Last month 10,554 visitors were admitted to the Henry E. Huntington library and art gallery. It was learned yesterday. They viewed the collection of paintings, sculpture and other works of art, the exhibition of books and manuscripts in the library and visited the gardens.

With the close of Harshbarger's testimony, W. E. Spence, attorney for the State, for questioning regarding six transactions which he is reported to have handled for the finance outfit. According to the prosecution, Spence acted as a scout for the defendants obtaining cheap property for them upon which exorbitant leases were reported to have been obtained later.

ASSERTED FRAUD SYSTEM

In the indictment under which Rounsewell, Simmons and Moore were charged with taking $42,475 of the Western Mutual Finance Company funds. The method used in obtaining this money, the prosecution asserts, was to purchase a large piece of property at a low figure through a large loan from a subsidiary loan company controlled by the defendants.

Children under 10 years of age are not admitted to the galleries and library, which are open from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

The defendants are represented by Arthur Veltch, Rollin McNitt and J. George Channeman.

GOODRICH TIRE PLANT OPENED

President Robinson of the Union Pacific Railroad gave a short address of welcome to the new concerns and outlined the policies of the railroad in encouraging the entrance of new industries.

The principal speaker of the day, President Tew told of the reasons behind the entrance into the Southern California industrial area and bespoke his pleasure and that of his fellow-officials at the choice of Los Angeles as the plant site. He also thanked the city commissioners and individuals for their interest and co-operation in the establishment of the plant here.

"Our decision to locate here was made as a result of a thorough study of conditions," Mr. Tew said.

"We found very fine labor and living conditions here and believed especially in the spirit of cooperation which the splendid co-operation and advice we received from your business organizations, your civic bodies, the railroads and the county and municipal authorities. We have found that industry in the Los Angeles area in Southern California responds to every vital requirement, both for manufacturing and distribution."

The man power for the new unit, he said, is being developed from this district, the greater portion of the employees having been taken from this area. Only necessary experienced engineers and officials were brought here from the parent organization.

Following the luncheon and speaking program the guests, together with hundreds of other visitors, were allowed to go through the plant and inspect it fully.

Broadcasting the entrance of the Goodrich company into the industrial circles, the organization inaugurated a series of weekly programs last night over KPF and other western stations. President Tew gave an address similar to the one of the afternoon and detailed the plans and aims of the company for its western unit.

CHEER VALLEY MAN
A letter was received yesterday by the Pacific Door and Frame Company from the Lockheed Air Craft Company, Burbank, builders of the plane in which Capt. Wilkins and his pilot were lost in the flood. The firm charged the water bonds, he then suggested, could be paid by a tax levy.

City Attorney Stephens asserted that in his opinion this use of the Water Bureau's funds would not be legal under the charter.

When the water bonds actually can be put into operation either Mayor Cryer's suggestion or the plan advanced by City Attorney Stephens cannot be determined for perhaps two weeks, it was stated.

Today's Bible Text

My son, if sinners entice thee, consent not. Proverbs 1:16.

The Markets

The wheat pit would indicate that agriculture is making a struggle to catch up with industry.

No Beauty Show

There being no bathing beauty show at Atlantic City this year a number of shapely girls will remain in touch with the kitchen rather than being out vamping for votes.

Thumbs Up

An Arizona citizen undergoes a surgical operation for the removal of a surplus thumb. In these days of pie and plums the possession of an extra thumb or two would seem to be an asset rather than a blemish.

Excess Baggage

The new Irish government is establishing a national military academy, which doesn't seem like a peace movement. Everybody knows that it isn't necessary to have a school to teach Irishmen how to fight.

Golf in Siam

Said that the King of Siam plays a real game of golf, but a lot of suspicious souls would rather wait until they hear it from his caddy. Golf links West and East. They say that his royal blues thinks the battle of Bunker Hill was a golf game following a Boston tee party.

What's the Use?

A court has ruled that a man may talk back when the wife indulges in back-seat driving and may even raise his voice to an angry pitch. But this finding of the judge will not help much. The women know they have their buffers and the men themselves realize the fact. If there is any new-found independence here most of them will never know it.

Call for an Anthem

The Chinese Nationalists are either looking for peace or trouble. At any rate they are offering a prize for the best Chinese national anthem. Some folks seem to think that the big use of a national anthem is starting a fight. It would be a funny thing if George M. Cohan, Jimmy Walker and Irving Berlin could get together and write the battle hymn of the Chinese laundry.

Exercise and Deformity

A French writer declares that English women are becoming deformed through their devotion to sports. Does he mean that they are having their bones broken in being thrown from their horses? The golf and tennis that the ladies indulge should deform no one. English maid-servants love outdoor exercise. The French women do not. The deformities to which he refers are perhaps a bit of color or a hint of muscle.

Reptiles are Barred

They seem to be as particular about snakes in Honolulu as they are in Ireland. It is claimed that there are no reptiles in the Hawaiian Islands and they may not even have a legal residence. Recently a dozen baby alligators that were sent to a zoo in Honolulu were officially executed because island laws denied them existence. Any crocodile that tries to swim to Oahu will be met with an injunction and a gentleman with an ax.

Jury Service

Instead of encouraging nitwits in jury service a woman attorney has prepared and will press a measure which would raise the qualifications. Under the proposed bill a juror would have to have some knowledge of law and court practice. Instead of having less he would have to indicate more than average intelligence. It is feared that the lawyers themselves would be the first to object to a reform of this kind. They do not care for jurors that they cannot hoodwink, dominate or cajole. It is feared that the progressive woman mothering this measure will not gain much headway. It will be claimed that a man has a right to be tried by a jury of his peers—not by those who know more than he does.

THE ELECTION RESULTS

California, long noted for the unexpected in its politics, ran true to reputation in Tuesday's Presidential primaries, giving Gov. Smith of New York a surprising Democratic endorsement and exceeding all expectations in the emphatic character of Republican approval of the Presidential aspirations of Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Tabulation of returns in the Democratic and Republican Presidential campaigns shows significant political tendencies in each party, and affords substantial material for study and reflection.

The wet Catholic Governor of New York, opposed by a dry Catholic Senator from the West, and a wet Protestant Senator from the South, won a victory confined to no particular section of the State and one that may be fairly said to represent a genuine expression of Democratic sentiment here.

The consequent effect upon the political fortunes of such Smith opponents as W. G. McAdoo, defeated head of the Walsh ticket, Senator Walsh and Senator Reed, who made an unexpectedly strong showing in the State, is incidental. Neither the exaggerated enthusiasm of the Smith supporters nor the depreciatory attitude of the Governor's Democratic antagonists need be unduly considered in the logical conclusion that the Smith vote in California greatly advances the Tammany chieftain's progress toward the Democratic nomination for President.

Obscenity envelops the reason for the exceedingly unimpressive vote given the Walsh ticket headed by Mr. McAdoo.

Rejection of the Montana Senator's candidacy in territory ordinarily supposed to be unalterably opposed to any candidate possessing the slightest sympathy for prohibition modification is as striking as the large proportions of the vote for Smith.

Whether the Democrats themselves are weary of the Montana Senator's muckraking and mud-slinging, or regarded him as a mere stalking horse for another candidate, their verdict on his Presidential ambitions probably will remove him from the list of actual contenders for the Democratic nomination.

Likewise, having risked everything politically on the Walsh venture in this State, Mr. McAdoo, too, must share somewhat in the diminished prestige of the New York Governor's opposition.

By many Democrats and Republicans the success of the Smith ticket here will be accepted as assuring his nomination at Houston. Further developments in the Democratic contest elsewhere in the nation, however, may show this to be premature. Under the party's two-thirds rule, a determined and fighting minority will repeat at Houston what the Smith opposition accomplished at New York four years ago.

The spectacular features of Tuesday's election were not confined to the Democratic contest, although they were more obvious and were more striking because of the element of surprise.

Herbert Hoover, a California Republican and a candidate for the highest honor which California Republicans and their fellow-partisans in the nation can bestow, received a vote of confidence and esteem truly remarkable in all of its aspects.

Latest returns, while incomplete, are sufficiently comprehensive to indicate that the Hoover ticket rolled up a total approximating $60,000. In Los Angeles county alone, more than 287,000 Republican men and women went to the polls. The Republican vote was, essentially and wholly a manifestation of faith in party and loyalty to the Hoover leadership. Investigation probably will show that no unopposed candidate ever received a higher percentage of the registered vote in any State than that cast for the Hoover ticket here.

Had there been a contest in California it seems obvious that the supporters of the Secretary of Commerce would have turned out in even greater numbers. The California vote will be ample notice to party leaders elsewhere that this State is safely and soundly Republican and that it is unequivocally and enthusiastically for Herbert Hoover.

Whatever grounds for jubilation may be felt by the advocates of Gov. Smith, the fact that an unopposed group of Hoover delegates received a vote three times greater than that polled by those National Democratic figures in one of the hottest party fights in California's history, speaks for itself—and speaks in terms of results next November.

Defeat for the local airport bond issue comes as a distinct disappointment to those who hope to see this community take its proper place in the forefront of aviation activities and development. The even division between the approving and disapproving vote on the proposed bonds indicates an honest difference of opinion on the projected airport program.

The vote likewise may be accepted as an unmistakable and a definite expression of lack of confidence in the municipal administration, and this factor in the election, rather than a reluctance to approve the bonds, undoubtedly was the determining influence. This community is located ideally for the fullest expansion of every branch of air transportation. Progress already made in airplane manufacture and design and in air navigation has placed Los Angeles and Southern California among the leading aviation centers of the world. Hence, defeat for the airport bonds is a setback for immediate plans, but is merely a temporary obstacle. When convinced that capable and disinterested public officials have the undertaking in charge, the people will approve the necessary expenditures.

Decreased Chances

That a country of prosperous individuals never will accept the Socialist doctrine is seen in the falling off of the registrations of that party for the primaries. No State reports an increase, and in most of them there has been a decided falling off. Ask the average man in the street who is running for President on the Socialist ticket, and the chances are ten to one he will not be able to tell you. After due inquiry this candidate is discovered to be Norman Thomas of New York, a name not to be found in "Who's Who." He will be lucky if he gets as many votes as Debs in 1920.

LEE SIDE O' LA

BY Lee Shippey

BACK in 1923 Benjamin Nadeau decided that the future of Los Angeles justified the erection of a four-story hotel. Sound, conservative business men shook their heads, and some even tapped them significantly. Up to that time no one had seriously considered the erection of a four-story building, and some even admired his rashness.

Nadeau's daring they could regret his rashness. And their prophecies, at first, were borne out. The city was too small for such a hotel. And its location was wrong. It was too far south! It was located at First and Spring. So part of it was converted into offices, and three barrooms leased parts of it.

Famous Guests

All the great and famous folk who visited us in those days were guests of the Nadeau-Lotta Crabtree, Bernhardt, Melba, Joe Jefferson, John L. Sullivan, the King and Queen of Hawaii and dozens more. It is, we believe, the only hotel in town which ever entertained a real king and queen.

And then its glory began to wane. The royal suite was turned into the most ornate gambling house in the Southwest, and the three bars flourished. But still it stood for dignity and sumptuousness, as well as gaiety, and in those days most of our citizens respected the hotel properly even while being intrigued by the hotel impropriety, so to speak.

Fiftieth Anniversary

The Nadeau still is carrying on, and now and then men who knew Los Angeles in its days of youthful prankishness are fond of meeting there and talking over old times. And often picturesque westerners come to town who would not think of stopping at any other house. C. C. Holloway has lived there twenty-seven years.

It is looking forward now to celebrating its fiftieth anniversary as a hotel. And it will just about have time to do so before the march of progress sweeps it away.

Tough Luck!

After writing all this, we've just discovered that Valerie Watrous should try to obtain any business that legitimately belongs to San Francisco. But under present conditions many Los Angeles products are sold in the San Joaquin through San Francisco when they could as well be sold direct. The San Joaquin Valley merchants also buy goods in the East which could as well be furnished by Los Angeles. A considerable portion of the San Joaquin Valley is naturally tributary to Los Angeles commercially, but the business has not been coming this way largely because San Francisco newspapers have found it easier to reach those points and have had this time advantage.

Cosily as this airplane service of The Times is, it will be justified from a commercial community viewpoint if it makes the people of the central valley acquainted with what the markets of Los Angeles have to offer and build up a mutually profitable interchange.

ELEGY WRITTEN IN A CITY FOOD FACTORY

BY James J. Montague
All edibles will soon be produced chemically, says a scientific magazine.

Beneath that vast retort—those sulphur tanks,

Where proteins rise in many a steaming heap,
And vitamins are ranged in serried ranks,

The rude forefathers of the hamlet sleep;

For them no more the blazing gas shall burn

Crisp artificial artichokes to bake,

Nor shall their eager helpers strive to learn

The speediest way to build synthetic steak.

Oft did they gather lime and coal and clay

To be combined in luscious cakes and pies,

Or mingle oxides for the consummes, Which filled the hungry hordes with glad surprise.

The fragrant scent of benzoate of zinc,

What time it sputtered in an acid test,

The cauldron's bubbling, or the test tube's clink

No more shall rouse them from their lowly rest.

Oft did the phosphate at their magic touch

Transform itself to mutton, ham or veal

Or anything, it didn't matter much—So long as they turned out a good square meal.

The boast of heraldry, the pomp of power

For these devoted savants held no charm.

Enough for them that they built eggs and flour.

And taught the world that it could scrap the farm.

State Bar Approves

SAN FRANCISCO, April 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your editorial entitled "The State Bar Rules," which appeared in your issue of April 27, 1928, is sincerely appreciated.

The State Bar welcomes criticism, either favorable or unfavorable. It shows that the press is interested in the various problems confronting the legal profession; is willing to criticize favorably when the facts warrant it; does not hesitate to criticize unfavorably if it believes that the State Bar is not fulfilling its duty. In either event the State Bar profits.

We note the rules suggested in your article, and the same will be submitted to the Board for consideration at its next meeting.

We like to be accommodating, but some folks ask too much. A. G. Stamm suggests that we get "behind the scenes in some short-order feeding station and interpret the orders as they reach the ears of the cook." We really haven't time to go learning a new language with 113 different dialects in it. And from our experience, we doubt that most of the orders ever reach the ears of the cook. Our theory is that all short-order cooks are totally deaf and place their simple and misguided faith in mind reading.

sufficiently comprehensive to indicate that the Hoover ticket rolled up a total approximating 500,000. In Los Angeles county alone, more than 237,000 Republican men and women went to the polls.

The Republican vote was essentially and wholly a manifestation of faith in party and loyalty to the Hoover leadership. Investigation probably will show that an unopposed candidate ever received a higher percentage of the registered vote in any State than that cast for the Hoover ticket here.

Had there been a contest in California it seems obvious that the supporters of the Secretary of Commerce would have turned out in even greater numbers. The California vote will be ample notice to party leaders elsewhere that this State is safely and soundly Republican and that it is unequivocally and enthusiastically for Herbert Hoover.

Whatever grounds for jubilation may be felt by the advocates of Gov. Smith, the fact that an unopposed group of Hoover delegates received a vote three times greater than that polled by three national Democratic figures in one of the hottest party fights in California's history, speaks for itself—and speaks in terms of results next November.

Defeat for the local airport bond issue comes as a distinct disappointment to those who hope to see this community take its proper place in the forefront of aviation activities and development.
The even division between the approving and disapproving vote on the proposed bonds indicates an honest difference of opinion on the projected airport program.

The vote likewise may be accepted as an unmistakable and a definite expression of lack of confidence in the municipal administration, and this factor in the election, rather than a reluctance to approve the bonds, undoubtedly was the determining influence. This community is located ideally for the fullest expansion of every branch of air transportation. Progress already made in airplane manufacture and design and in air navigation has placed Los Angeles and Southern California among the leading aviation centers of the world. Hence, defeat for the airport bonds is a setback for immediate plans, but is merely a temporary obstacle. When convinced that capable and disinterested public officials have the undertaking in charge, the people will approve the necessary expenditures.

REPTILES ARE BARRED

They seem to be as particular about snakes in Honolulu as they are in Ireland. It is claimed that there are no reptiles in the Hawaiian Islands and they may not even have a legal residence. Recently a dozen baby alligators that were sent to a zoo in Honolulu were officially executed because island laws denied them existence. Any crocodile that tries to swim to Oahu will be met with an injunction and a gentleman with an ax.

JURY SERVICE

Instead of encouraging litigants in jury service a woman attorney has prepared and will press a measure which would raise the qualifications. Under the proposed bill a juror would have to have some knowledge of law and court practice. Instead of having less he would have to indicate more than average intelligence. It is feared that the lawyers themselves would be the first to object to a reform of this kind. They do not care for jurors that they cannot hoodwink, dominate or cajole. It is feared that the progressive woman mothering this measure will not gain much headway. It will be claimed that a man has a right to be tried by a jury of his peers—not by those who know
more than he does.

DECREASED CHANCES

That a country of prosperous individuals never will accept the Socialist doctrine is seen in the falling off of the registrations of that party for the primaries. As Mr. Arnall said, San Francisco newspapers have been preferred in such cities as Fresno, Porterville, Hanford, etc., because they arrived earlier than the Los Angeles papers; but now the Los Angeles Times 2 a.m. airplane edition arrives first in that territory and enables Los Angeles business men to compete for the business of a territory that for some things, at least, is naturally in the Los Angeles market.

This does not mean that Los Angeles

has a right to be tried by a jury
of his peers—not by those who know
more than he does.

THE NATURAL MARKET

The airplane service of The Times into San Joaquin Valley points has a commercial angle, as A. G. Arnall, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, pointed out in a recent letter. Heretofore, as Mr. Arnall said, San Francisco newspapers have been preferred in such
cities as Fresno, Porterville, Hanford,
etc., because they arrived earlier than the Los Angeles 2 a.m. airplane edition
arrives first in that territory and enables
Los Angeles business men to compete
for the business of a territory that for some things, at least, is naturally in the Los Angeles market.

RIPPING RHYMES by Walt Mason

DUTIES DONE

Beneath my poison ivy vine rest at close of day, and my tranquil thoughts are before I hit the hay. I've neglected any chore that I now recall; I kalmomed my cellar door and swept the garden wall. I put the stored stones on the stove, at my good wife's behest, although the labor was to draw the gladness from my breast. I took a healing can of kraut to Ebenezer Jones, neighbor who is down and with anguish in his bones. I returned a bunch of beans borrowed two weeks ago, and clared I was a prince. I paid doctor for advice, and when I gave him the price he nearly swooned away; for he is used to weekly wages; and sometimes, more much like freaks, are always arrears. I gave ten cents a cheerful face when some passed the hat to build a decent dwelling place for homeless dogs and cats. I can think of any task that I have left undone, and so in conclusion I bask and watch the sun. It is a cheering thought to know you let no duty fill you with a grateful heart that warms you, hair and all. It makes you feel you are cheaply idle, heedless, and you feel you've earned hours of sleep, or maybe even ten. You feel you're not a total loss in life's program scheme; you burn some sense to your loss, and go roost and dream.

Joe Windsor Wins President's Cup Tournament at Potrero

PLAY PROVES BIG SUCCESS

Klamp, Sangster Capture Second and Third

Fields Cops Low Net for Class B With 278

Marchetti Defeats Teare in Rancho Tourney

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE
Potrero's first big tournament for the President's Cup proved most successful, according to Larry Kelly, club pro, who writes in that Joe Windsor's 70-66-70-379 gave him the championship and trophy. Windsor outfinished Bill Klamp by one stroke. Klamp's score, 68-75-72-364, gave him the Vice-President's Cup.

Danny Sangster, L. A. High star, turned in cards of 74-77-76-366 for an aggregate of 225, giving him Class A low gross honors. Other Class A results were as follows: Low gross, Danny Sangster, Dale Johnson, 74-77-71-222; net, fifty-four holes, Ben Diamond, 66-70-75-211; low net, thirty-six holes, Bill Billings, 66-67-135, and low net, eighteen holes, Dr. E. L. Rankin, 67.

D. Fields, 73-61-58-278, won low net for seventy-two holes in Class B. Eddie S. Madsen, G. S. Madden, 70-66-73-278. Other scores: Low gross, seventy-two holes, H. J. Doshak, 774; low gross, thirty-six holes, Thele Biehl, 162; low net, fifty-four holes, F. W. Oliver, 208; low net, thirty-six holes, N. L. Biehl, 139.

ENTRIES MAILED FOR LEGION TOURNAMENT

With the mailing yesterday of entry blanks for the all-Southern California Legion of American Veterans' tournament, an announcement was made by Chairman Bert Mann of the State Legion athletic commission, that interest in the forthcoming play has reached a high pitch among the 150 posts in the Southwest.

At least 300 Legionnaires are expected to die their entries with the State commission within the next week. The Pasadena post probably will be represented by Dr. Paul Hunter, well-known amateur, and others. Hollywood Post will send its best golfers to the Girard event, one of whom is William O'Dell, past commander of the Los Angeles County Council of the Legion.

Under the auspices of the Owensmouth Post, a mammoth barbecue will be given the visiting Legionnaires on the day of the tournament.

PENITENTIARY STARS OUT TO BREAK SUNSET MARK

Two of Southern California's finest golfers today went to play over the Sunset Fields course as the guests of James A. Dougherty, president of Sunset Fields. Mrs. Dan Jones, former State champion, and Miss Helen Lawson, Del Monte champion, are both anxious to take a swing at the Sunset Fields record of 53, held by the former national champion, Mrs. Miriam Burns Horn. Miss Lawson has not been playing much golf of late as she has been very busy with her studies at U.S.C. On the other hand, Mrs. Dan Jones is playing magnificent golf. She gets up to 50 marks at least every other time she starts. She is granted more than an even chance at the Sunset course record today.

HUBBARD CAPTURES SWEEPSTAKES

Leslie Hubbard won the sweepstakes at the El Caballero Country Club yesterday, $6,165. Ralph Doid was second with 8,79-8-2, and third was George C. Ward, 84-74; Harry Blake, 84-74, and Dr. A. Boland, 90-74-73.

MARCHETTI DEFEATS TEARE, 2 AND 1

Milo Marchetti, medalist in the Rancho Spring handicap tournament, downed Conway Teare, 2 and 1, after a stiff battle in the first round of play. Fred Langton, no. 1, in his first match, had a losing round with a 72, did not fair well. He dropped his first match to H. A. Green, 4 and 2. Results and pairings:

SOCIETY

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

Primrose—that shade of pale, pale yellow which in some lights seems almost white—was the unusual color scheme carried out consistently in the gowns of the girls' bridal party when Miss Ruth Yoidore Dockweller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isidore B. Dockweller of 2321 South Figueroa street, became the bride yesterday of Charles Quinn Brady. The ceremony took place at high noon in St. Vincent's Church, where the bride's brother, John Francis Dockweller, and Miss Angela Irene McManus were married, and later her sister, Mrs. Marcus E. Crahan (Rosario Margaret Dockweller), and was solemnized by Rev. John C. Cantwell after Father Martin O'Malley had celebrated the nuptial mass. Nearly 1000 guests attended, while in the sanctuary were Archbishop Hanna, here on a visit from San Francisco, and many members of the Los Angeles clergy.

All wearing imported Louise Boulonger models, the lovely bride was gowned in tulle; her matron of honor, Mrs. Crahan, in taffeta, and her maid-of-honor, Mrs. William Kenneth Young (Mary Donavan), her other sister, and Miss Betty Bishop, in chiffon. A lily of the valley bouquet of lilies of the valley completed the exquisite costume of the bride, while the others wore Agnes turbans and carried bouquets matching those which decorated the altar. Three little girls, Julia Stearns Dockweller, Mary Mader and Christine Mader, also attended the bride, wearing French frocks of pleated georgette in the primrose, with primrose ribbons in their hair and carrying lichen hats full of flowers.

Mr. Brady chose for his best man Hooper Churchill, and the ushers were James G. Donovan, Jr., Lawrence Overall, John Francis Dockweller, Raymond Durney, Dr. Marcus Esteketh Crahan and James Fitzpatrick. Proceeding to the ceremony music was furnished by a trio of organ, violin and viola.

Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family, the wedding breakfast at the Dockweller home, following the ceremony, was given for the bridal party and members of the immediate family only. Mrs. Dockweller received the guests in white. Her gown was an imported Dorell model of moroccoan, and to the church she wore a large white hat, a Calot wrap of white georgette and the moroccoan.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady are leaving immediately for a month-long honeymoon in Honolulu, and after June 1 will be at home to their friends at 732 South Orange Grove avenue, Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Young will leave today for San Francisco, whence they will Saturday for Honolulu, also, to be gone a month.

Honeymoon Ceremony

Another wedding ceremony of much interest taking place at high noon yesterday was the marriage of Virginia Prudential and Dudley Campbell of Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell, the service being read by Rev. C. P. Aked in the home of the bride, 205 South Rodeo Drive, Beverly Hills, in the presence of thirty close friends and relatives.

The bride, given in marriage by her guardian, Frank Springer, was gowned in a robe de style of rare old lace, with which she wore a tulip veil and cap clasped with orange blossoms, and carried a basket of white roses, carnations and lilies of the valley. Her maid of honor was Miss Florence Meyer of Berkeley, whose gown was of green lace, with which she carried peach-colored roses and ferns. Little Alice Herzig was a dainty flower girl in a frock of white tulles trimmed with Irish crechet, carrying a basket of spring flowers.

Dr. Joseph Stevens served Mr. Campbell as best man, and before the ceremony Miss Margaret Cole sang "I Love You Truly." The bridal party descended down a long wrought-iron staircase, through an aisle of palms and white tulles, and before an improvised altar banked with ferns, spring flowers in white, and tall cathedral candles.

After a honeymoon tour, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will make their home in Los Angeles. Mrs. Campbell attended Miss Head's School in Berkeley, while Mr. Campbell was educated in the East.

Among the many delightful pre-nuptial affairs given for the bride-elect was a bridge tea at which Miss Campbell was hostess Thursday, April 26, in the Beverly home of Miss Marie Prevost and Saturday, April 28, Miss Meyer entertained eighteen friends of Mrs. Campbell with a luncheon and bridge party at the Cass Del Mar.

Bacot-Pritchard

A beautifully simple wedding ceremony, with only the two immediate families present, was that of Miss Roberts Helen Pritchard, daughter of Mr. Robert Henry Pritchard of 200 South Mariposa avenue, to Reginald Meyer Bacot, son of Rev. C. P. Aked yesterday in the patio of the Pritchard home, which for the occasion was transformed into a bower of pink and green. The walls and ceiling of the patio were covered with green asparagus ferns, and bordered with white runners and tall candles, which led to the improvised altar at one end, backed with pink roses and delphiniums, through an aisle of pink gladioli at each side. A large white wedding bell of flowers was suspended overhead, and was illuminated from the inside.

The bride was gowned in a Lucile model from Paris, hand embroidered of peacock cloth, and a small hat trimmed with "breath of pink" flowers. Her only attendant was Miss Mary McMillan, a cousin who wore a gown of organdie, and Miss Mary Crist sang "O Promise Me," and "I Love You Truly," before the ceremony.

After their honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Bacot will go to Laurel, Miss., to make their home.

May Tea

Invitations for a May tea, given annually by Mrs. Ade S. Bliske, manager of the Marlborough School for Girls, have been issued, and guests will include the class of 1928, mothers of the graduates-to-be, members of the Marlborough Club, the alumnae and the faculty. The affair will take place tomorrow afternoon at the school.

Style Show

For the first time at the University of Southern California a style show to be given this afternoon in the Student Union Building will have masculine models displaying spring fashions for men. These will be co-ed models who have been selected from each social sorority on the campus.

Featuring types of dress worn on campus, the models will have the following students as models: Miss Betty Ferris, Alpha Gamma Delta; Miss Aileen Schultz, Delta Gamma; Miss Mary Main, Kappa Alpha; Theta Phi; Miss Helen Higgins, Delta Zeta; Miss Margaret Carroll, Delta Gamma; Misses Gisele Miller, Alpha Delta Phi; Miss Aida Mills, Alpha Chi Omega; Miss Helen Morris, Zeta Tau Alpha; Miss Anna Wrightman, Phi Mu; Miss Josephine Campbell, Kappa Delta; Miss Anna Moore, Iota Sigma Theta; Miss Anne Moore, Alpha Epsilon Phi; and Miss Gene Williams, Beta Sigma Omicron.

Miss Helen Higgins, a faithful three-piece suit ready for any emergency, is a favorite of fashion. The coat is made of a light-colored fabric matching the skirt, and is to be sure, presents a picture of the ensemble which is more dressy occasion than day wear. Silk, both plain and patterned, is the material for the blouse, which may be quite expensive.

In eastern universities, including Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Cornell and Princeton, will be the standard for the men's college attire, as demonstrated this afternoon at the Hotel Bowles, Earl Cupin, Hilton McCabe, Malcolm Chambers, Bill Balone, Lowell Dryden, Ed Ware, Jimmy Lane, Lowell Good and Jimmy Spence.

Fathers to See Baby Exhibit

Imagine the embarrassment of the Mothers' Educational Center and the twenty-six other Community Chest agencies sponsoring the "Baby Show," when it was discovered the fathers of the babies also are interested in them.

The discovery resulted in a decision to keep the Twelfth-street doors of the baby show in the basement auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce. Sunday open from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. today and to call the occasion fathers' night.

Many Los Angeles fathers, it seems, protested that they worked during the daytime and that the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.—which still govern the balance of the week—constituted favoritism to mothers.

Eggs...
$50 each!

THAT'S about what each egg costs you when it hatches into a moth-worm that eats your valuable woolen things. It is the moth-worms that do all the damage—the flying moths cannot eat! And remember, insect-killers, mothballs, tar-bags and cedar chests won't stop moth-worms from eating. But Larva stops the pests, because it moth-proofs the cloth itself! Guaranteed by Good Housekeeping Magazine. Odorous, non-injurious and non-inflammable. Larva comes in two forms: Spraying Larva and Rinsing Larva. Use Spraying Larva for clothes, furniture, etc. Costs as little as pressing—enough to thoroughly moth-proof two suits, only $1. Simply spray it on and then wash it. Use Rinsing Larva for all washable woolens—blankets, sweaters, wool hose, baby garments, etc. Easy as rinsing! Dissolve in water—put woolens in—and they're completely moth-proofed until washed again. A $1 package moth-proofs all the washable woolens of the average family. Sold by drug and department stores. Spraying Larva, pint, $1. In combination with special stomizer, $1.50. ½ gallon, $3. ENGLISH STYLE, BROILED KIDNEYS

Place on the broiler and broil on both sides. When well done, place on four slices of toasted toast, one tablespoonful of butter with the juice of a lemon, one tablespoonful of Worcester sauce, salt, pepper, a quarter of a teaspoonful of nutmeg and a tablespoonful of finely

1 D	Pass	Pass	1 H
2 D	Pass	4 D	Pass

Pass	4 D

Total bid 4 D. Played by: South

Ssalient Points of the Bidding

After South's rebid to two Diamonds, North jumps the bid to four, not only to show his exceptional support for the Diamond bid, but also to shut out a possible shift by East to Spades.

Ssalient Points of the Play

Trick 3. Declarer plans to establish Dummy's hand by ruffing the Hearts remaining in it and setting up the Club suit. He fails in the Club division which, however, nevertheless establishes the suit at once, provided the outstanding Clubs were distributed 3-2. If not so distributed, another Club trick must be lost and game cannot be won. Declarer proceeds on the assumption of favorable Club distribution, having no better alternative.

UNITED EUROPE BASIS OUTLINED

Dr. James Murphy Lectures at City Club

English Statesman Here on Speaking Tour

France's Family Allowances System Explained

Dr. James Murphy, author and statesman, in a lecture on "How Europe is Laying the Economic Basis of an International Comity," given at the City Club yesterday, declared that the much-mentioned "United States of Europe" is not a relationship to a political program, but is an outgrowth of social and economic necessity "inspired by the broadening consciousness of a humanity that has begun to recognize genuine values and to apply humanitarian principles to human problems."

FAMILIES SUPPORTED

"The industries of France are paying to 3,300,000 workers $150,-000,000 a year for family allowances, exclusive of wages, and some industries are paying to social welfare projects 200 per cent more than their dividends to stockholders," said Dr. Murphy.

"Germany and France are adopting similar methods of reconstruction. Germany and France have become business partners and political and governmental boundaries are gradually dissolving everywhere under the hot white light of co-operative industrialism."

"We shall never understand Europe nor present world conditions so long as we continue to talk of the recent terrible debauch of humanity as a World War," said the speaker. "After the first two years of that conflict, every one knew there was no chance for a military victory. All belligerents had decided for peace, but they had sold their souls to a monster they could not control and the bloody business had to continue for two more years. The political militiamen had undone the socialist and Bolsheviks, who only confiscated property and had confiscated the lives of individuals."

WAR IS PARADOX

"The war was a paradox in that while it treated human life as valueless, it developed in the minds of average men the consciousness of their value as units of society. Naturally, the people lost confidence in their leaders and from that lack of confidence in militaristic masters was born the urge to re-create social and governmental institutions on a humanitarian foundation."

"As the renaissance of art followed the crusades and the black plague in Europe, a new day is dawning from the dark night which began with the sunset of 1914."

During the World War, Dr. Murphy was special correspondent of the Northcliffe Press. Later he was editor-in-chief at the Italian government press office. He founded and edited "Modena Italy" and today is one of the outstanding antagonists of the Mussolini regime. He is a guest at the Beverly-Western Hotel.

Oil Company's Harbor Space Plea Opposed

Application of the Vegetable Oil Products Company of Wilmington, which asked the Harbor Commissioners for more space back of its frontage near the Catalina Terminal wharf, yesterday was referred to General Manager Cole for a recommendation.

Company representatives said they desire to construct a number of storage tanks and asked for space on the area now leased to the Banning Company, between Yacht street and the McCormick Building.

Cole reported that the Banning space is needed for the storage of pipe and steel products. He said the lease of the vegetable oil concern is not all in use and that if in the future the company actually needs more room it can be taken from the Banning lease, which is renewable.

Dancer Held on Forgery Charge Waives Hearing

Waving preliminary hearing, Robert Chetwinn, 20 years of age, said he had been a dancer with a chorus in New York, was held for trial yesterday by Municipal Judge Baird on three counts of forgery. Bail was fixed at $200.

Representing himself as a son of J. W. Bixby, wealthy Long Beach oil man, according to police, Chetwinn is said to have passed checks on three local stores for merchandise. His bail was set on April 25, last. Traffic Officer Beau on complaint of clerk.

HUGGED GIRL FRIENDS

Wife Wins Divorce After Story of Husband's Failings

Mrs. Iva T. Tuttle wept bitterly when testifying in her divorce case against Amos Tuttle as she told how her husband attempted to fondle and rape her daughter, who came to visit her. The case was heard yesterday by Judge Long. The couple was married ten years ago at Los Angeles.

The wife also asserted they attended a dance in September, 1927, and that her husband caused her great anguish, humiliation and suffering by conducting himself with undue familiarity with various women guests. She was given a decree.

SIXTY-THIRD NUPTIAL DAY CELEBRATED

Ceremony Performed on Kansas Indian Reserve at Close of War

Married sixty-three years, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Akin of Santa Ana celebrated their wedding anniversary last night in the home of their great-niece, Mrs. D. S. Harrison, 975 South Gramercy Drive. They were married in 1896 on the reservation of the Kaw Indians at Council Grove, Kan., traveling by stage coach on their honeymoon.

Flower Given Name of 'Times' Garden Editor

Dr. A. D. Houghton of San Fernando, whose new Watsonias have attracted much attention not only in the horticultural world but among flower lovers, has named his new Watsonia, which is a distinct type, for Frances Duncan, editor of the Garden page of the Times magazine, Farm and Orchard, "for her horticultural services."

The Frances Duncan Watsonia has white, saffron petals and the flower is widely open as the petals flatten backward against the flower's stem. The flower is white, tinted with rose-color, and with rose-color at the throat.

For many years Dr. Houghton has been experimenting with plants and persistently hybridizing varieties. His two or three acres near the old San Fernando Mission are a fascinating spot. Many experiments are being carried on there. A Watsonia was formed at the recent Pasadena Flower Show.

Dr. E. P. Zimmerman, president; Elizabeth Bullard, honorary vice-president; E. P. Zimmerman of Carlsbad, vice-president; W. H. Knecht, second vice-president; B. L. Shaw of the Shaw Hybridizing Gardens secretary and treasurer.

Shooting Suit May be Settled

Settlement of the suit of Henry T. Harper for $100,000 for the fatal shooting of his son, Richard Harper, in the lobby of a Central Avenue theater, is under way, it was disclosed yesterday when the case was called before Judge Crawford and continued a week for further negotiations.

Harper sued the owners of the theater and Downey Brown, janitor, who was said to have fired the shot that killed young Harper. It is contended the youth was shot during a quarrel following his ejection from the theater.

It's a Tough Life the Pyle Transcontinental Marathoners Are Leading these days and it isn't surprising that travelers along the route to New York occasionally come upon pictures such as the above, showing Harry Rea of Long Beach, taking a sleep by a roadside fire in Illinois. KHJ DEDICATION TO COVER STATE

Four Stations Will be Linked in Broadcast

Two Hours to be Devoted to Presentations

United Artists' Program Set for Tonight

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER
The inaugural program of Don Lee's KHJ station next Monday night is to be marked by a dedication broadcast that will be statewide.

The two-hour broadcast, commencing at 8 o'clock, will be the

Always there with Cunningham Radio Tunes formal presentation from the elaborate new studio of studios in the Lee Building at Seventh and Bixel streets.

The programs will, of course, originate at KHJ and over telephone lines the presentations will be carried to KFRC, the Don Lee station in San Francisco; KFWB in Hollywood, and KMA at Fresno.

Since Joe Valley has a "jocular" "dead space" for radio reception and radio receptionists in the region always have experienced difficulty in receiving programs other than those at their own stations.

FOUR STATIONS

Thus the State hook-up will be a tremendously appreciated event for those in and around the Fresno area. Through the network, KHJ will be heard throughout the state.

KFRC, the Golden Gate; KFWB, the motion-picture empire, and KMA, the famous raisin empire in which it is located.

It is expected that the line-up will have a wide coverage so far as audience is concerned, not only because of the powerful stations, but also because of wide publicity which is being given the preview of the new KHJ studios.

The opening affair will be in direct charge of Arthur Kay, composer-conductor, who, this week assumed the duties of music director for the station.

All in all, the Monday program from KHJ promises to be a colorful event and one which will be long remembered among the ranks of the radio audience.

FILM PROGRAM

With Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld, famous impresario and managing director of United Artists theaters throughout the country, acting as chairman of emcees, KHJ will go on the air tonight with a testimonial program to David Wark Griffith, cinema director, who celebrates his twentieth anniversary in the picture industry next Tuesday.

Riesenfeld is bringing his augmented United Artists orchestra as a feature of the program which will be broadcast from 9 to 10 p.m. In association with Mr. Griffith, the noted musician also will render a musical selection from the aforementioned production, "Drums of Love," which has its premiere at the Griffith testimonial performance at the United Artists' Theater Tuesday night.

TWO ORCHESTRAS

The KHJ concert orchestra and a number of instrumental and vocal soloists will be a feature of the musical program, while a group of screen stars, including Phyllis Haver, Jean Harlow, Belle Bennett and others, will give brief talks.

The hour's program is being arranged under the personal direction of Dr. Riesenfeld and Lou Anser.

"Drums of Love," Griffith's new motion-picture creation, is the inspiration of the testimonial hour and likewise will be the motif of the performances at the United Artists' Theater Tuesday evening when local cinema stars will turn out en masse to pay tribute to the director.
